

MISSION: BABIES VS DOGS

The Mission District is becoming known as a place for families. Some families may choose both dogs and babies, some one or the other. Either way, specialty retail and services geared for dogs on the rise. This map juxtaposes where these services are in relation to where the babies are. The map is broken into census tracts and shaded according to how many babies there were according to the 2010 census. The lightest shade represents the fewest babies, the darkest the most. The values are the percentage of the population that is under 6, not the total number of children.
